CORDS OF THREE STRANDS
OBJECT LESSON

God puts other Christians in our lives to keep us strong

OBJECT LESSON

You will need 3 strands of rope or string. Each strand should be light enough so that a child can easily break one strand, but thick enough that breaking three strands is very difficult.

Allow the children to break one strand. Then add a second strand, and then a third, and allow them to practice breaking the strand.

Discuss how we need each other as Christians and how God puts other Christians in our lives to keep us strong.

Tip: Use my
"A Hand to Hold" post from yesterday to expand your lesson even more....

Here's a snippet!

Every night, before going to bed, sea otters do two things. They find a seaweed or kelp forest to bed in, and they find their mate's paw. As they fall asleep, they clasp their paws together. And why? To keep from drifting apart in the night.

Tides and currents will separate them from one another...but by entangling themselves in seaweed, and holding their little paws together, they can drift the open seas together.
